

Big Rock Natural Area, 10 acres

Route 10, Lyme NH

Conserved in 1997

Donated Conservation Easement

Project Story (from UVLT archives)

Donated by local landowners and owned by the Town of Lyme, this community effort helped to bring another piece of Grant Brook into protection. This piece is located in the heart of the town and the intention is that this swampy wetland will become a valuable tool in science education. Can you name a better way to learn about those that live in wet places and how they interact than tromping around in your Wellies in the swamp and stream?

Local children will be able to learn, hands-on, about why these places are essential in the survival of certain species and why, we too, should care about their welfare. With a public access-way off of Market Street, natural history buffs and nature lovers can also share in their appreciation and in the beauty of the place.
